

To Whomever this may concern

During February 2024 NCE Soccer will be participating in a cultural exchange tour for girls in the 2007 and 2008 age group. This promises to be an incredible cultural opportunity of travel for the girls with the group departing on Thursday February 15th and returning on Thursday February 22nd, 2024.

This event has been established to take those elite female players in the 2007 and 2008 age group who are considering future opportunities in the world of soccer and education. The players will compete against and train with top professional club's academy programs including some of our international partners. Our players will get to experience the daily schedule of a soccer scholar in the UK and the expectations of an elite player. In addition, they will be able to measure themselves against some of the top female players across the Northwest of England.

Further to the soccer sessions the players will visit local schools and universities across the Northwest of England and have the chance to explore potential opportunities as an International Student at the end of their high school career.

All travel safety protocols and guidelines will be followed by the group which will include staff members from NCE Soccer and parent chaperones.

If I can offer any further details about the tour or provide clarification on the schedule and expectations of those traveling with the group, please do not hesitate to contact me at the number and e mail address listed below.

Sincerely,

John Curtis
